TUBERCULAR MILK SHIPPED TO CITY

Health Department Acts Against Farmer.

THE NEW GUINEA PIG TEST

Six Herds of Tubercular Cattle Found Within Six Months in Environs of the Capital—Inoculation of Guinea Pigs is a Sure Test—Vigorous Campaign On.

Officials of the health department announced yesterday afternoon that as the result of tests conducted by the office, samples of milk being shipped to the District by a Maryland farmer have been found to contain tubercular bacilli. The farmer has a herd of approximately 100 cattle.

As soon as the discovery was made the health department notified the farmer that unless he could show immediate proof that his herd contains no tubercular cattle, his permit for the shipment of milk into the District will be revoked. As is customary, the department offered to send an inspector to the farm to test the cattle for signs of tuberculosis if the dairyman desires any assistance in conducting the test.

Vigorous Campaign On.

There is no doubt in the minds of officials of the office that some of the cattle in the herd have tuberculosis. This is the largest herd suspected of containing tubercular cattle which has come to the attention of the department for many months. During the past six months six tubercular herds have been discovered by the office.

The first herd contained fifty-three cattle. Upon being subjected to the tubercular test, seventeen were found to have the dread disease. In the second herd there were twenty cattle. The owner of the herd went out of business before the department had an opportunity to test the cattle. In the third herd, twenty-seven out of forty-one cattle were found to be tubercular. The fourth herd, containing forty-eight cattle, which was discovered only recently, was found to be almost entirely tubercular. Forty-one diseased cattle were discovered. The fifth herd contained twenty cattle. The owner sold out his business before the department could test the herd.

The tubercular cattle are killed under the direction of the health department, and in some cases under the supervision of the Department of Agriculture. Until recently, the nature of the tubercular test was kept secret by the health department. The test is conducted by the inoculation of guinea pigs. Milk from the cattle suspected of being tubercular is given to the guinea pigs. The little animals are kept under observation for six weeks, and if the cattle are tubercular the signs of tuberculosis will be seen in the guinea pigs within that time.

Test is Infallible.

If the guinea pigs are found to show signs of the disease, other guinea pigs are inoculated from the first ones. It has been found that the disease becomes more pronounced with an increase in the number of inoculations and in the number of animals of different species inoculated.

WANT MR. RUDOLPH FOR COMMITTEEMAN

He Will Be Asked to Give Answer To-day.

Local politicians were much interested last night in the announcement that a committee would wait to-day upon Commissioner Rudolph to request him to allow the use of his name as a Republican national committeeman from the District of Columbia.

The movement in favor of Mr. Rudolph has its origin in the fact that he is a well-known Republican and is identified with the present administration. It is said to be unnecessary that he should be a delegate to the convention, although he can be chosen if he desires the honor. The proposition to place him on the National Committee is based upon the desire of numerous Republicans to have the District represented by a prominent citizen who has already been honored by the President.
